Mr. Mills, along with Shawn Roberts outlined in detail, presenting a handout, the need and purpose of the purposed Buckeye project. Chairman Silvetti requested Mr. Mills explain the plan for product flow reversal from the present west-to-east flow. The project would allow for the reverse flow of refined products from the East to West pipeline. Also, the tank being placed would remain empty 90% of the time, the purpose is to protect both lines and keep the pipeline from rupturing. Buckeye does not own the petroleum product, just the pipe and equipment to transport the North American crude. This project is in no way related to the Sunoco Mariner East Project. The end result being reduced cost in fuel.

Supervisor Brown asked that an ongoing issue with erosion and sedimentation be addressed, stating he’s been trying to have Buckeye resolve the issue for the past 5 years. Mr. Roberts assured him that Buckeye would address and resolve the issue next week.

Mr. Mills stated that they are still vetting the schedule, noting the earliest start date would be this fall, with spring of 2018 most probable. The proposed wall, depending on the elevation of the land, will range from 4’ to 11’ in height.
Mr. Roberts commented on public awareness and safety issues, noting that they provide annual awareness training. This training involves local officials, Volunteer Fire Company personnel and Emergency Responders. The facility is not manned 24-7 but is monitored 24-7. The tank itself is designed to contain an area of 110% of the actual need.

Following a lengthy discussion, Supervisor Lasek read verbatim from Chris Dutrow’s engineering comments of July 11th, making this part of his official motion. This Bill, now before the Senate after having passed the House with PSATS opposition, would require municipalities who contract for UCC inspection services to accept other Third Party UCC Inspection Agencies.
